

Established in 2000 as Bloc Graphics, Bloc Digital specialise in the creation and re-use of 3D modelled information encompassing both sales & support; giving the most effective solution in shared cost.

Our Derby based design team use the latest software to create highly engaging content, working with you to develop your initial concepts into eye-catching and intelligent solutions. The no-nonsense approach taken by Bloc puts the customer in control and ensures an end result that exceeds the expectations of our clients and their audience.

Our continued commitment to cost, quality, understanding, developing, presenting & re-utilising customer information is what sets us apart from the competition.

The creation of raw meshes from customer supplied information; this can take the form of pre generated CAD data, photographic media, hand drawn sketches, even the real thing! If none of these are available our experienced digital artists can help develop your initial concept from scratch.

The art of the moving image; the addition of motion can be used to communicate messages, feelings, attitudes and atmospherics. Our team can take client concepts in a variety of forms and utilise their extensive experience to create the perfect solution.

Engaging the user to interact with knowledge, process, information and products; when embarking on a new project we will work alongside the client's subject matter experts to analyse the exacting needs and ensure an appropriate use of technology is employed.

interactive

.your future.

The deliberate use of composition and layout to create effective communication; whether you want to re-purpose meshes already created or generate new media for print and online solutions our digital team can supply the expertise needed to add that competitive edge.
